

THE WHOLE-LIFE WHEEL

Seeing the Full Picture

A self-assessment for women ready to understand where they truly are — across every dimension of health and life.

Why Assess Your Whole Life?

Most wellness approaches focus on a single area — nutrition, or exercise, or sleep. But your life does not operate in isolated compartments. When one area struggles, it quietly pulls the others down. When one area flourishes, it lifts the rest.

The Whole-Life Wheel is a foundational tool used in every Clarity Into Momentum coaching program. It offers a clear, honest snapshot of where you stand today across eight dimensions of health and life — without judgment, and without prescribing any particular answer.

You cannot change what you cannot see. This assessment helps you see clearly.

How to Use This Assessment

For each of the eight dimensions below, rate your current satisfaction on a scale of 1 to 10, where 1 represents deep dissatisfaction and 10 represents thriving. Circle or mark your number, then respond briefly to the reflection prompt. Answer honestly — the value of this tool lies entirely in your candor.

1 Body & Physical Health

Your energy, strength, vitality, and how you feel in your body day to day.

Rating

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----

low-high

Reflection — When did you last feel truly good in your body? What was true about that time?

2 Nutrition & Nourishment

Your relationship with food, eating patterns, hydration, and how food makes you feel.

Rating

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----

low-high

Reflection — How would you describe your relationship with food in one honest sentence?

3 Mental & Emotional Health

Your mood, stress levels, mindset patterns, and emotional regulation.

Rating	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	low-high
--------	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----------

Reflection — What emotion do you experience most often? Is it one you would choose?

4 Sleep & Recovery

The quality and quantity of your sleep, and how well you restore between demands.

Rating	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	low-high
--------	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----------

Reflection — When did you last wake up feeling genuinely rested?

5 Relationships & Connection

The quality of your closest relationships and your sense of belonging.

Rating	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	low-high
--------	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----------

Reflection — Who in your life replenishes you? Who depletes you?

6 Purpose & Meaning

Your sense of direction, contribution, creativity, and what motivates you.

Rating	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	low-high
--------	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----------

Reflection — What would you be doing if you felt more alive and on purpose?

7 Environment & Space

Your physical home, workspace, digital habits, and the spaces you inhabit.

Rating	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	low-high
--------	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----------

Reflection — When you enter your home, how does it make you feel?

8 Spirit & Inner Life

Your connection to faith, gratitude, inner peace, and something larger than yourself.

Rating	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	low-high
--------	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----	----------

Reflection — When do you feel most grounded, centered, and at peace?

Interpreting Your Results

Once you have completed all eight dimensions, step back and consider the full picture through four lenses.

01 Notice the gaps, not the low scores.

A low score is not a failure; it is a signal. The distance between where you are and where you wish to be in any dimension is precisely where meaningful growth becomes possible. Which gap feels most pressing to you right now?

02 Look for the connections.

These eight dimensions are deeply interrelated. Poor sleep undermines mental health. Strained relationships drain physical energy. A lack of purpose often presents as fatigue. Where do you observe a chain reaction across your own results?

03 Identify your highest-leverage dimension.

If you could meaningfully improve a single area — and in doing so lift the others — which would it be? Frequently it is sleep, stress, or a central relationship. That dimension is your most strategic starting point.

04 Name what surprised you.

Most people rate at least one dimension higher or lower than expected. These surprises are the most instructive data of all. Which number caught you off guard, and what might it be telling you?

The dimension I most want to focus on:

What changing this area would mean for my life:
